MORE TROUBLE FOR MORRILL Bad Condition of Affairs in Kansas City

Topeka, Kan. April 29.--Mayor Twiss, accompanied by Police Commissioner Caskey, McConnell and Greas, came over from Kensas City, Kan., today to pour into Governor Morrill's ear a tale woe about the operations or rather lask of operation of the prohibitory lask in Runsas City. The police com-missioners said that the city council had raised the liquor fine from $50 to $30 in order to put the police commissioners into the hole. All agreed that the situation was bad, but nobody suggested any remedy and no request was made of the governor. "They just talkgovernor tonight, "and I listened, Don' exactly understand what they wanted of me, or whether they wanted anytidng. I have no more power in the remove the commissioners, and no one has asked me to do that."

IT IS JUST A REQUEST Kansas City A. P. A. Not Ordered to Fight McKinley Yet.

Kansas City, Mo., April 29.—It was authoritatively stated yesterday tha he A. P. A. organization in and about Kansas City had received letters re-questing that the order work and orpanize in the interest of W. S. Linton, is a candidate for president of the United States. That such a letter was recrived there can be but little doubt, for although the members of the A. P. A. do not admit directly that such is the case, they take little pains to deny it.

They insist, however, that if such a ocument is in existence it is not in the nature of an "order" but decidedly in the form of a request. This all means that the local McKinley organizations, as far as the A. P. A. members are con-cerned, will not in the least be effected by the letter. They insist that there is A. P. # HAVE ADDED FLIERS A NO-TO-BAC MIRACLE IT SAVED M'KINLEY

Physical Perfection Prevented by the Use of Tobacco.

An Old-Timer Cured After Using Tobacco Twenty-Three Years -He Gains Twenty Pounds in Thirty Days.

Lake Geneva, Wis., April 29.—(Special.)—
The ladies of our beautiful little town are making it interesting for tobacco-using husbands, since the injurious effect of tobacco and the case with which it can be cured by No-To-Bac have been plainly demonstrated by the ours of Mr. F. C. Waite. In a written statement he says: "I smoked and chewed tobacco for twenty-three years, and my case was one of the worst in this part of the country. Even after I went to bed at night; I woke up to chew or smoke. It was killing me and my wife was also ailing from the injurious effects. Two boxes of No-To-Bac cured me, and I have no more desire for tobacco than I have to jump out of the window, I have gained twenty pounds in thirty days, my wife is well, and we are indeed both happy to say that No-To-Bac is truly "worth its wellath in gold."

Mr. Waite's cure is looked upon as a miracle. It is the talk of the town and county, and over a thousand tobacco-users will use No-To-Bac. The peculiarity about No-To-Bac is that the makers authorize every druggist in America to absolutely guarantee three hoxes to cure of refund the money, and the cost is so trifling, compared with the expensive use of tobacco, that tobacco-using husbands have no excuse so offer when their wives insist upon their baking No-To-Bac, gaining pure, sweet breath, new mental and physical powers and a practical revitalization of their nicotinized nerves. No-To-Bac not only cures the tobacco habit but restores vitality and nerve vigor. It is indeed a miracle worker for weak men. Get our beoklet, "Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away." dered Duval to Take His Troops Up a Creek, Which I uval Did, and After Fighting Gallantly Routed the Enemy -Afterward Sheridan Told McKinley it was All Right Because it was Right, But if it had Been Wrong it Would Have Been Damned Wrong.

New York, April 29.-The Herald rints the following from Canton, Ohio: McKinley, despite his Scotch-Irish ancestry, his hard-headed practicality, has sentiment. You can safely measure a man by his rhetoric, and McKinley's rhetoric is invariably warm and full of color. In speaking or writing he deals in adjectives as freely as when making tariff schedules he uses figures and fractions on the ascending side of the scale. It is a favorite theory of his worshipers that he has taken Blaine's place in the imaginations and affections of the people. Certain it is that he has Blaine's gift, or trick, whatever you choose to call it, of striking fire on the sentiment of the masses. He has a personality which pleases. His family ife is ideal. His face inspires confidence. He is stronger than Blaine ever was in the hearts of the people, because Blaine never made a tariff bill which was put out in good times and was followed by another tariff bill which became operative in bad times.

In many ways Blaine has been his ideal. The first chance he ever had to attract the attention of the country to himself was in Blaine's service. In the Republican national convention of 1884 McKinley was a Blaine delegate, de-spite the fact that John Sherman was a candidate from Ohio. At a critical moment in that convention, when Biaine's nomination seemed impending. the opposition made an effort to adjourn. It was McKinley who threw himself into the breach. With a few clear cut words, in that tense, highly commanded every ear end every eye in the convention. In a dozen words he made himself a marked man. Innumerable predictions were at that moment made that some day he should be president, and McKinley has been running away from or running toward the presidency every since.

William McKinley's inheritance from his Scotch-Irish ancestry was strength of character, stubbornness, straight driving. No weak man could have en-tered the Union army a boy of 17 and in three years have attracted the at-tention of such generals as Hayes, Crook and Sheridan, to say nothing of successive promotions. He was a gen-tle boy, as he is a gentle man. His methods are those of peace and good feeling. He has the gentleman's aver-sion to barehuses to have sion to harshness, to hurts, to rebuffs. But when occasion demands he can be as bold as Murat. While yet a beard-less boy McKinley was an aide on Gen-eral Sheridan's staff. He was given oral orders to General Duval to advance his command. But Duval was not acquainted with the topography of the country and wished to know whether he was to move by the creek bottom or over the hills. The orderly did not know, but thought Sheridan had intended the advance to be made by the
